SALEM Dec 4th 1863

Timid Political Leaders

It has often been difficult in the United States, to find men who were willing as leaders, to avow a political principle, and stand by it through evil and through good report without going to the extreme either of radicalism or conservatism. The most urgent demand of the community is for those of large and comprehensive minds, with true courage to adopt and pursue with indomitable energy the just mean between timidity and rashness. There are always fools enough ready to rush in where angels fear to tread, but the angels are very apt to hold back and be fearful, and we therefore lack the safe men who can pilot the Nation, States and communities through the perils of the course which is open before them. Now, radicalism is popular, and the politician who does not yield to it, is sure to be a ruined aspirant, the people trust no middle measures—the life of the land demands radical measures, and the cabin and moderate manager is not in place or of any use.

MR COLE'S ELECTION.—The Surveyor General of Washington Territory has blossomed very much through the Standard about the result of the delegate election, and falsely attributed it to the OREGONIAN but he has never published the letter which an Oregon Senator wrote to him, urging him to give up Mr Ray nor and support Cole. Suppose he makes it public, it wont do any harm now, and it will show why the official clique threw cold water upon the Union nomination, and then to cover their rascality and hypocrisy, basely imputed Raynor's defeat to his best and most sincere supporter. The simple truth is that Old Henry desiguedly defeated the Union candidate for the purpose of boasting that any nomination but his own, was sure to be beaten, and for his edification, we are free to say that if he had been nominated there is no man in the Territory of any politics who would not have whipped him out of sight.

DEATH OF THE KING OF THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—On Monday, Nov 30th, Alexander Liholiho, Kamehameha IV, King of the Hawaiian Islands, breathed his last, after a comparatively short illness. His Majesty was only 29 years of age, and had reigned nine years. The following proclamation as to his successor, was issued:

It having pleased Almighty God to close the earthly career of King Kamehameha IV, at a quarter past 9 o'clock this morning I, Lot Kahina Nui, by and with the advice of the Privy Council of State, hereby proclaim, Prince Lot Kamehameha King of the Hawaiian Islands under the style and title of Kamehameha V.

God Preserve the King!

Given at the Palace, this thirtieth day of November, 1863. (Signed) KAAKUMANU.

The new King is an elder brother of the late monarch, and is 33 years of age. For the last six or seven years he has acted as Minister of the Interior for the Hawaiian Government.

JUST WHERE THEY BELONG.—The Richmond Enquirer says:

The principle of slavery is an itself right, and does not depend on difference of complexion.

The last clause evidently refers to the sympathizers at the north, who for years been morally and politically as complete and abject slaves to their southern masters as any of the blacks in bondage. We have hoped that the opportunity now afforded these stupid Democrats, would be gladly improved, but it seems as though many of them were determined still to hug and kiss their infamous chains, thus proving that in their case at least slavery does not depend upon complexion.

GENERAL CONNOR.—The Stockton Independent of December 18th says:

A letter was received by a gentleman in this city yesterday from Gen Connor at Camp Douglas, Utah in which he states that rich mines have been found near his camp and that some of the soldiers have prospected recently with great success. They have found silver and gold placer and quartz mines and the General is of the opinion that extensive mineral deposits exist in the mountains near Salt Lake City.

The way to get rich seems to be to enlist. Soldiers on this coast or in the interior run right against gold or silver mines, and if they get what is turned up before them, they are wonderfully lucky fellows.

PATRIOTIC SENTIMENT.—Governor Andrew's proclamation appointing Thursday, November 26th, as the day of thanksgiving in Massachusetts, contains this passage:

Blending the temper of forgiveness with an unflinching integrity of purpose, weeping with the bereaved who mourn the beauty of our Israel slain upon our high places, but catching the sublime spirit of those who have sealed their testimony with their blood may we fail not to improve on this our annual festival strength for future to restore our selves also in every heroic virtue for the vindication of right and the overthrow of wrong.

JOHN MORGAN'S CHIEF OF STAFF DRUNK.—The Dayton (Ohio) Journal states that Colonel Alston John Morgan Chief of staff was recently paroled and started for the South, but was so insolent while in the cars between Columbus and Zanesville as to excite the indignation of one of the faithful who was on board and who checked his blatant treason in a very summary way. The scene is thus described:

Colonel Alston [illegible] with [illegible] and [illegible] of a recent conflagration. a light ray to lighten the darkness and anguish of the sufferer. Dr. Hall's Balsam is now in the hands of thousands, and wherever it has been tested it has proved itself a sovereign remedy for the most dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. Its virtues are now known throughout the length and breadth of the land, and wherever it has been introduced it has driven out all other cough remedies. Its sales are unprecedented, and it is daily increasing in favor. Its praises are in the mouth of every one who has used it, and it is destined to become a household word in every family where it is known. Its wonderful cures of the most severe cases of coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, and even consumption, can be proved by reference to the most reliable citizens in every community where it has been introduced. Its composition is such that it can be relied on as a safe remedy for children, containing no opium or anything injurious to the most delicate infant. Its effects are magical in relieving the most severe cases of croup and whooping cough, and it has been tested in hundreds of cases of consumption, and has never failed to relieve the most distressing symptoms, and in many cases to effect a permanent cure. Prepared only by Dr. Wm Hall, and for sale by all druggists throughout the country. Price 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1 per bottle.

For sale wholesale and retail by REDINGTON & CO, Sole Agents, 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco, and for sale by all druggists. n23

THERE is no other way to cure diseases but by first purifying the whole system so as to create a healthy circulation.

The first medical men of the age agree with us that no disease of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood. Why many medical men have failed to cure chronic diseases is because the medicines used have not been such as will act beneficially on the blood.

The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public, and the many gallons said to be used by physicians, warrant us in saying that the last two years we have been more successful with our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing hopeless cases of chronic diseases than have any other remedies in the hands of physicians, or before the public.

It is now admitted that no combination known to the profession acts so promptly upon diseases as our SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP.

Portrait of Prisoners — Nathan Olney Sheriff of Wasco county assisted by Marshal Chas White and Walter Pomeroy, of the Dalles, arrived on the steamer Wilson G. Hunt last evening, bringing five prisoners for the State Penitentiary, who have been tried, convicted and sentenced at the December term of the Circuit Court of the 2d Judicial District held by Judge Wilson, at Dalles City. The prisoners are Jas Sherwood, sentenced to 4 years for horse stealing; Leland Nuss, 3 years, for horse stealing; Wm Hannel 3 years, for horse stealing; Chas F. B. Tichnal 2 years manslaughter, Thomas Graham, 2 years for assault with attempt to murder. Theodore Johnson, found guilty and sentenced to 3 years, for stealing horses, was not brought down with the five named, his counsel having appealed to the Supreme Court, on the ground of want of jurisdiction, the trial being had in Oregon for offence alleged to have been committed in Washington Territory. Bail had not been given at latest advices, in default of which he will doubtless soon obtain board and lodgings in the companions at the expense of the State of Oregon.

Mustering and Re-Enlisting — By the telegraphic dispatches from Washington of the 7th Dec, we notice that a large share of the Army of the Potomac is re enlisting. Corps veterans from Chattanooga also say that the Army of the Cumberland a large share of the troops will re enlist, under the new terms offered. By the card of Major T. M. Vincent, of the U. S. Army, in another column, it will be seen that $402 bounty is paid those re-enlisting within one year of the expiration of their term of service. The same card also announces that a bounty of $302 is paid those who enlist. This latter sum is for recruits.

Shocking Sight — During one of the rain storms yesterday afternoon, there appeared a series of rainbows, forming a dense and beautiful double, and still outside another and fainter rainbow arching the sky, the whole forming one of the most sublime spectacles it has been upon our fortune to witness.

Down River.—The Wilson G. Hunt brought down a few passengers and about 250 pounds of wheat, last evening. One man had 70 pounds in his saddle bags.

The boiler for the new stern-wheel steamer Fairy arrived on the Oregon, and will be put in place with the machinery in running order very soon.

Arrival of the Oregon.—The steamer for San Francisco will sail this evening at six o'clock.

The Destruction of Port Angelos.—We yesterday conversed with a Mr. Higgs, from Port Angelos, who was an eye-witness of the terrible disaster at that place. He says that up to a few moments before the avalanche struck and trees, there had been no perceptible change in the condition of the creek. In a few moments, the water raised several feet, when suddenly there came booming down the ill-fated town what appeared to be a solid wall, about thirty feet high, composed of wood and logs, some of the latter 70 feet long and from 4 to 6 feet in diameter, all moving square in its compact face, and impelled by a vast torrent in its rear. His description of the scenes that followed would occupy more space than we can spare, as much is detailed in our extract from a Victoria paper. The Custom House is now on board the revenue steamer Jno Lane. The old site of the Custom House is now ten feet under water at high tide. Those who were induced to settle around there are very despondent, and any settlement now standing can be purchased for much more than the cost of windows, doors, &c. Stumps and trees torn up by the roots are piled in some places 25 and 30 feet high. It had been snowing lightly for two days, and the ground was covered to the depth of two inches. After the catastrophe, a party of men were overheard arranging for the robbery of the Government safe, which still remained, but a vigilant watch prevented the consummation of their scheme.

Bullion, Copper and French Chalk — We saw last evening shown some very fine specimens of copper and silver ores, and also a beautiful piece of pure French or tailor's chalk, taken from his claims on Canyon Creek, in the John Day region, by M. L. Mounts, Esq. The silver ore is 60 per cent pure, and the gold must be at least 85 or 90. He has also a mine of French chalk, which makes a very fine and slender line on cloth and only requires transportation and sawing into convenient size and shape for use to make it a valuable commodity, rivalling the best imported article.

U. S. Steamer Narragansett — This vessel under command of Capt. Woodworth is now in the waters of Puget Sound, looking after the interests of the Government. It can do no harm, but a great deal of good to have a armed vessel where the treason protators can smell her smoke once in a while.

Destruction of Port Douglas — We are informed that the town of Port Douglas, situated at the head of Harrison Lake in British Columbia, was some ten days since almost entirely swept away into the little lake by an avalanche. We could learn no particulars.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

The Baby's Tooth.

Some people think babies do no good in the world, but only live here to torment those who want to have quiet and order. But I think they are real missionaries, making others better by their smiles, and lifting many back of care off many hearts by their artless ways. Well, years and years ago, when there were few cars, and people had to ride over rocking roads in great lumbering stage coaches, the circumstance I am going to tell took place. I can remember the time well. I suppose it was no holiday sport to go "out West," as people then called a good part of New York State. It would not do for delicate folks to travel then! There were very few wedding tours. But of this journey

The evening coach was full—so full that it was an imposition on the passengers"—so said Miss Trimmer, who, with two or three pattern hats and a box of artificial flowers, was the last one to enter, notwithstanding the inconvenience to which she put her fellow passengers. The village squire, never too amicable, was returning from a court, where he had been nonsuited in a case involving about a fiftieth part of his estate: of course he was morose and impatient. A worn looking woman was trying to quiet a restless babe, by tossing it up where there was no room to toss a bird, because a simpering school girl on the next seat had whispered aloud to her very young gallant that babies were a perfect nuisance in a stage coach, and that she should think that any one would rather stay at home than travel with one. Poor, unfortunate babe! poor, sensitive, widowed mother! Theirs was no pleasure trip; they were going, uncertain of a welcome to a rich relative of the newly dead, the only one on earth of whom they could ask aid. Comfort or pity the mother did not look for. It was between these and the surly squire that Miss Trimmer inserted herself. At the cruel remark of the incipient belle, the widow turned aside to wipe away a tear, when her innocent half-yearling grasped with her plump hand a huge bunch of honey-suckles and carnation pinks which dangled from the near side of Miss Trimmer's bonnet.

"Will no one take pity on me?" shrieked the bearer of the flower burden. "Will no gentleman shield me from such annoyance?"

"Yes, madam, I will," answered an old gentleman, who sat in a corner resting his chin upon the ivory head of his cane. The lady was soon safely installed in the seat farthest removed from the vicious baby, and the old man in her place. Now this cramped up baby was a perfect democrat: she did not know she was poor and fatherless: nor that, when he lived, her father was only a hard-working bricklayer. She knew nothing of all this, and seemed to think she had as good a right to shout and crow as any other baby, and to pull flowers out of bonnets, too, if she could only reach them. So at the new comer she went. Her first effort was to secure his white beard, but that was immovable. She next reached out her hand for the seals, and lastly grasped the cane. "Well, little inch," said the dear old man, "if you want to get at my seals, you had better come a little nearer." So he took the willing babe from the weary mother, and installed her on his own knee. The woman straightened herself and drew a long breath, as if relieved from a burden she had not strength to bear.

"You look tired, madam; have you come far to-day?" asked the merciful man.

"I held the baby thirty-six hours in the cars before I got into the coach," she answered with a quivering lip.

"I don't see how any one can take care of a troublesome baby," again whispered the little miss.

"Somebody held us all once, and took care of us too, my child," replied the old gentleman, whose ears were too keen to lose her remark. "Children must be taken care of; they have their work to do, and they generally do it faithfully." And he rattled his seals and keys again for the happy child. The poor mother cast a look of unmingled gratitude upon her benefactor—yes, benefactor he was, though he had never given her a crust nor a copper, for kind words are often better than money. This good man alone, of all the passengers, save the unconscious baby, seemed at his ease.

At length the horses stood still, and all seemed pleased at the prospect of having the company thinned. Miss Trimmer looked hopefully at the widow and baby, but they did not move. An anxious, care worn gentleman began to unwedge himself, preparatory to alighting. Then, in the deepened twilight there bounded from the dwelling beside which the coach had halted, a curly headed boy of four years. "O, pa, pa," he shouted as the parental head emerged from the coach door. "I've good news for you; you can't guess what has happened to-day;" and clapping his chubby hands and dancing for joy he exclaimed: "O, papa, the baby's got a tooth!" There was a sudden revulsion of feeling in the coach. The passengers all laughed heartily at the vast importance of the news from that little world home. Miss Trimmer put her head out of the coach window and exclaimed: "What a darling little fellow!" The coachman forgot to crack his whip a whole minute as he gazed at the happy boy. The father turned round, smiled, raised his hat and said: "Good bye" to his fellow travellers. The surly squire laughed and drew down his fleet, which had all the way been stretched out in the widow's territory to her great inconvenience, saying: "Beg your pardon ma'am." Even Miss Trimmer was softened, for she opened the cover of her reticule, and gave the offending baby a stick of candy, saying: "Poor thing, she must have something to amuse her." "Well;" cried the laughing school girl, "I do love children after all: they are so funny I can't help it."

"Never try to help it, child," said the baby's benefactor. "They ought to be loved, for they do a great deal for us grown folks. Now, don't you see that rosy boy, with the news of the great acquisition to his family treasures—a tooth for the babe—has changed a coach-full of anxious and ill-tempered people into a cheerful and kind hearted company? Don't you see how he has made friends for my little companion here, who is too young to speak for herself? Why, we are all better now, for riding with this little one, and, my word for it, you'll think of her after you go home, too." Then, turning to the widow, he asked her to whose house she was going? When she answered him, he said: "Oh! it's too far to ride to night with this poor tired baby; stop and rest with us, grandmother will give even a strange baby a welcome, for we have just buried our pet at home—my daughter's little one. She made the house very cheerful for us, but she is gone, but not forgotten! No, I believe grandmother loves all babies better since she died. So don't be afraid of intruding." Moved by such kindness the widow, in an undertone, told her painful errand to her new friend. "Ah?" he said, "Well, your relative is a kind man if you go to him in just the right way—and folks say I know how to manage him as well as anybody. In the morning I'll drive you over there, and present your case in the most judicious manner. Never fear, he'll be kind to you; so keep a good heart, my poor friend."

Overcome by such unlooked for kindness, she wept the tears that had all day been gathering in their fountains under the cold looks and sarcastic words of those around her. Miss Trimmer, who, when not in a hurry or a crowd, was really a kind hearted girl, looked compassionately at the faint effort the young widow had made towards wearing black for the dead. "Won't you call at my shop in the morning, Mr. Bond?" she asked. "I should like to speak with her," and she glanced at the shawl hat with its band of thin black crape, with an expression that promised a new one.

"Well, here we are my friend," cried the driver, as the coach stopped before an old brown mansion, "and there is grandmother waiting for us." The little belle offered to hold the baby while the mother alighted, and the surly squire handed out her carpet bag and basket. "Good night"—crack went the whip—and the cheerful travelers rode on to their homes. Neat, and warmth and a cordial welcome for the night, and prosperity on the morrow, awaited the lonely widow, and all," so said her noble friend, "because a baby had a tooth, and its little brother told of it!"—From Maple Hill.

Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the	Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms if allowed to go, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follow

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those [illegible] diseases."

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion that

THE CONSTITUTION,

once shattered by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine,

to strengthen and invigorate the system, which

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

invariably does.

A Trial will Convince the most Skeptical.

AYER'S

Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1861.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arouse from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect,

ED. W. PIERCE, Clerk of Rosanna Canal.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1863.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and family practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say that they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an invaluable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I seldom found a case of bilious disease to which they did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

ALONZO HALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, Litt. Co., Mich., Nov. 18, 1863.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went to the doctors at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced using your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars a piece for them. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually what it claims to be, honest, will be prized here. GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary benefit in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. They are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I am cordially recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WATSON, WYOMING Co., N. Y., Oct. 31, 1861.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1861.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is good in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of [illegible] open her face and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long afflicted with [illegible] pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORRISON.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 8, 1861.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief you have brought me if I did not help it my case you. I suffered [illegible] which ended in chronic rheumatism. Nothing [illegible] the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. [illegible], I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

CHARLES CHANDLER, Baton Rouge, La., 4 Dec., 1861.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

VINCENT MARKS.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are a sure remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Indigestion, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous to use from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its injudicious use. These contain no mercury or mineral whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. It is in every town, and almost every family of the [illegible] its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal [illegible] effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote [illegible] known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest [illegible] that can be given to infants and young persons. Parents should have it in their houses against the insidious enemy that steals upon them [illegible]. We have abundant grounds [illegible] the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by its [illegible] than all other remedies. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away.

All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and all should know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare neither cost, no care, nor toil to produce the most perfect possible, and thus we confidently commend it to the [illegible] of those who rely on it. The best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
